As an employee of the District School Board of Pasco County (District), employed in a position listed below, you are considered to be “at risk” for exposure to another person’s blood, body fluids or other potentially infectious materials (bloodborne pathogens) as a routine part of your job. Because you are “at risk” of exposure to bloodborne pathogens, you are eligible to receive the Hepatitis B vaccine at no cost to you through the District’s Occupational Health Program at one of the onsite Employee Health and Wellness Centers.

You are required to complete training upon initial employment (or initial assignment) and at least annually while you are employed in a job classified as “at risk”. The Hepatitis B vaccine is available to you upon completion of the initial training for bloodborne pathogens.

If you do not wish to receive the vaccine, you must sign a declination form. Please contact your school nurse to obtain an authorization form to receive the Hepatitis B vaccine or declination form to decline the vaccine.

“At Risk” Job Classifications (Includes any position where contact of Hepatitis B known carrier is required):
