“Interpreting During a Pandemic: A Conversation About Perspectives”

Location: Zoom/Virtual Workshop

Time: 1:30 pm to 4:30 pm

Instructor: Corey Axelrod

Registration and Site Contact Person: Please contact Kathy Huntzinger at khuntzin@pasco.k12.fl.us to be sure there are slots available. She will be glad to answer your questions about the site and handle ADA accommodation requests.

Description:

As the coronavirus pandemic has significantly altered instruction in K-12 and higher education settings, Deaf and hard of hearing students are increasingly more vulnerable to falling through the cracks. During this interactive workshop designed for educational professionals, Corey Axelrod – founder and CEO of 2axend – will provide tangible actions educational professionals can, and should, take to alter eLearning to meet Deaf and hard of hearing students’ overarching communication needs.

Learning Outcomes:

Audiences will leave this workshop with:

- Tips for educators to consider when implementing eLearning strategies
- Strategies to overcome difficult conversations with other educators
- An understanding of potential communication and cultural gaps between students and the educational team

EIP is an Approved RID CMP Sponsor for Continuing Education Activities. This Professional Studies (PS) program is offered for 0.3 CEU's at the “Some” Content Knowledge Level.

This workshop is designed for educational interpreters working in public school districts and is provided without cost to individuals or schools by the Educational Interpreter Project.
