

Pasco County graduates are productive and responsible citizens who are college and career ready, critical thinkers, and effective communicators.

Graduate Outcomes

College and Career Ready - to be a literate person in the twenty-first century requires an learner who will choose to seek the wide, deep, and thoughtful engagement with high-quality information that builds knowledge, enlarges experience, and broadens worldviews. They reflexively demonstrate the cogent reasoning and use of evidence that is essential to both private deliberation and responsible citizenship in a democratic republic (CCSS, 2010).

These students are:

Persistent

Risk-takers

Knowledgeable and skillful

Well-rounded

Collaborative

Critical Thinkers - have a disposition to apply thinking skills critically and creatively to identify, analyze and use information to make reasonable, ethical decisions. The steps of problem solving are used to study and understand complex social and scientific problems. Students like exploring possibilities and see things in new and different ways. They are reflective in their approach to what they have done in order to make future decisions.

These students are:

Globally-minded

Innovative

Problem-solvers

Critical Evaluators

Effective Communicators - gather, analyze, and use information from a variety of sources in order to communicate effectively. They understand the power of communication to inform, persuade, influence, interact, and generate new ideas. They successfully use verbal and nonverbal communication processes of reading, writing, listening, speaking, and viewing, and they recognize cultural influences on language and behavior (Pasco County Vision, 2006).

These students are:

Active Listeners

Articulate and Persuasive

Empathetic

Reflective

Respectful of diversity