Access Points Settings: Lesson Segments Involving Routine Events

Design Question #1: What will I do to establish and communicate learning goals, track student progress, and celebrate success?

1. Providing Clear Learning Goals and Scales (Rubrics)
The teacher provides a clearly stated learning goal accompanied by scale or rubric that describes levels of performance relative to the learning goal.
Teacher Evidence <input type="checkbox"/> Teacher has a learning goal posted so that all students can see it <input type="checkbox"/> The learning goal is a clear statement of knowledge or information as opposed to an activity or assignment <input type="checkbox"/> Teacher makes reference to the learning goal throughout the lesson <input type="checkbox"/> Teacher has a scale or rubric that relates to the learning goal posted so that all students can see it <input type="checkbox"/> Teacher makes reference to the scale or rubric throughout the lesson
Clarification for Secondary InD- Independent Level Settings - Teacher Evidence <input type="checkbox"/> Evidence above is applicable
Clarification for Supported and Participatory ASD and InD and Elementary Independent Level Settings - Teacher Evidence <input type="checkbox"/> Expect lesson goals to be implemented over an extended time <input type="checkbox"/> Teacher will focus on the lesson rather than achieving the student understanding the relationship of the scale or rubric to the learning goals
Student Evidence <input type="checkbox"/> When asked, students can explain the learning goal for the lesson <input type="checkbox"/> When asked, students can explain how their current activities relate to the learning goal <input type="checkbox"/> When asked, students can explain the meaning of the levels of performance articulated in the scale or rubric
Clarification for Secondary InD- Independent Level Settings - Student Evidence <input type="checkbox"/> Evidence above is applicable
Clarification for Supported and Participatory ASD and InD and Elementary Independent Level Settings - Student Evidence <input type="checkbox"/> When asked, students may indicate or state the learning goal for the lesson <input type="checkbox"/> When given verbal and/or visual choices, students may indicate or state how their current activities relate to the learning goal
Scale Levels: (choose one) <input type="checkbox"/> Innovating <input type="checkbox"/> Applying <input type="checkbox"/> Developing <input type="checkbox"/> Beginning <input type="checkbox"/> Not Using <input type="checkbox"/> Not Applicable

Providing clear learning goals and scales (rubrics)	What are you learning about your students as you adapt and create new strategies?	How might you adapt and create new strategies for providing clearly stated learning goals and rubrics that address the unique student needs and situations?	In addition to providing a clearly stated learning goal accompanied by a scale or rubric that describes levels of performance, how can you monitor students understanding of the learning goal and the levels of performance?	How can you provide a clearly stated learning goal accompanied by a scale or rubric that describes levels of performance?	How can you begin to incorporate some aspects of this strategy into your instruction?

2. Tracking Student Progress
The teacher facilitates tracking of student progress on one or more learning goals using a formative approach to assessment.
Teacher Evidence <input type="checkbox"/> Teacher helps student track their individual progress on the learning goal <input type="checkbox"/> Teacher uses formal and informal means to assign scores to students on the scale or rubric depicting student status on the learning goal <input type="checkbox"/> Teacher charts the progress of the entire class on the learning goal
Clarification for Secondary InD- Independent Level Settings - Teacher Evidence <input type="checkbox"/> Evidence above is applicable
Clarification for Supported and Participatory ASD and InD and Elementary Independent Level Settings - Teacher Evidence <input type="checkbox"/> Teacher provides guidance and support to students to track their progress in formal and informal ways
Student Evidence <input type="checkbox"/> When asked, students can describe their status relative to the learning goal using the scale or rubric <input type="checkbox"/> Students systematically update their status on the learning goal
Clarification for Secondary InD- Independent Level Settings - Student Evidence <input type="checkbox"/> Evidence above is applicable
Clarification for Supported and Participatory ASD and InD and Elementary Independent Level Settings - Student Evidence <input type="checkbox"/> When asked, students can indicate their status relative to the learning goal using the scale or rubric <input type="checkbox"/> With teacher guidance and support, students systematically update their status on the learning goal <input type="checkbox"/> Students may not be able to verbalize their progress

3. Celebrating Success
The teacher provides students with recognition of their current status and their knowledge gain relative to the learning goal.
Teacher Evidence <input type="checkbox"/> Teacher acknowledges students who have achieved a certain score on the scale or rubric <input type="checkbox"/> Teacher acknowledges students who have made gains in their knowledge and skill relative to the learning goal <input type="checkbox"/> Teacher acknowledges and celebrates the final status and progress of the entire class <input type="checkbox"/> Teacher uses a variety of ways to celebrate success <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Show of hands • Certification of success • Parent notification • Round of applause
Clarification for Secondary InD- Independent Level Settings - Teacher Evidence <input type="checkbox"/> Evidence above is applicable
Clarification for Supported and Participatory ASD and InD and Elementary Independent Level Settings - Teacher Evidence <input type="checkbox"/> Celebration more likely to occur via verbal praise and encouragement as students demonstrate desired behaviors/goals (immediate feedback) rather than delayed feedback
Student Evidence <input type="checkbox"/> Student show signs of pride regarding their accomplishments in the class <input type="checkbox"/> When asked, students say they want to continue to make progress
Clarification for Secondary InD- Independent Level Settings - Student Evidence <input type="checkbox"/> Evidence above is applicable
Clarification for Supported and Participatory ASD and InD and Elementary Independent Level Settings - Student Evidence <input type="checkbox"/> Student may show signs of pride regarding their accomplishments in the class <input type="checkbox"/> Student shows acknowledgement of teacher feedback or praise

Student Interviews

Note: When questioning students consider cognitive and language levels of functioning

Student Questions:

- What learning goal did today's lesson focus on?
- How well are you doing on that learning goal?
- Describe the different levels you can be at on the learning goal.

Design Question #6: What will I do to establish and maintain classroom rules and procedures?

4. Establishing Classroom Routines

The teacher reviews expectations regarding rules and procedures to ensure their effective execution.

Teacher Evidence

- Teacher involves students in designing classroom routines
- Teacher uses classroom meetings to review and process rules and procedures
- Teacher reminds students of rules and procedures
- Teacher asks students to restate or explain rules and procedures
- Teacher provides cues or signals when a rule or procedure should be used

Clarification for Secondary InD- Independent Level Settings - Teacher Evidence

- Evidence above is applicable

Clarification for Supported and Participatory ASD and InD and Elementary Independent Level Settings - Teacher Evidence

- Depending on cognitive level, students may or may not be able to participate in designing classroom routines
- Rather than expecting students to restate or explain, the teacher may guide students through rules and procedures using a variety of prompts

Student Evidence

- Students follow clear routines during class
- When asked, students can describe established rules and procedures
- When asked, students describe the classroom as an orderly place
- Students recognize cues and signals by the teacher
- Students regulate their own behavior

Clarification for Secondary InD- Independent Level Settings - Student Evidence

- Evidence above is applicable
- Note: Consideration should be given for settings in which behavior is the primary focus

Clarification for Supported and Participatory ASD and InD and Elementary Independent Level Settings - Student Evidence

- Students follow clear routines during class
 - When asked, students may state or indicate the established rules and procedures
 - When asked, students may recognize areas of the classroom
 - Students may recognize cues and signals by the teacher
 - Students may be able to regulate their own behavior with teacher support
- Note: Consideration should be given for settings in which behavior is the primary focus
